

THE NEW CODE

Document is Finally Made Public—Synopsis of Its Provisions.

Too Many Appointive Officers and Not Enough of Genuine Home Rule is Maintained.

Abstract of the New Code Published in the Morning Papers, but Governor Denies Its Correctness—Division of Cities and Villages—Number Councilmen Reduced.

Columbus, Aug. 16—Governor Nash is indignant at the publication this morning in one Cincinnati paper and one Columbus paper of what purports to be an official abstract of the municipal code. In an interview with your correspondent the governor declared that the publication was without authority from him. He said that the matter published must have been fished out of the waste basket, and declared that it was incorrect in some essential particulars.

The governor now says that his code will provide for boards of public service in cities to be elected by the people for terms of three years, whereas the publications referred to stated that these officers would be appointed by the governor. The governor says it has also been determined that police and fire boards will be appointed by the mayor and not by the governor. On the franchise tax question the taxes to be paid by public corporations will be fixed in each city by the council and will not be five per cent. of the gross receipts as represented in the illegal abstract published this morning.

The published abstract of the Code to which Governor Nash alludes are as follows:

COLUMBUS, Aug. 16—The Nash administration code bill to be presented to the coming extraordinary session of the Legislature contains these salient points:

The dividing line between cities and villages is fixed at the population of 10,000.

Villages are to be incorporated, created and governed under present laws. Council for villages is to consist of six members, and other officers are Mayor, Marshal, Village Clerks, etc.

Council of cities are to consist of not less than nine members, three of whom are to be elected at large; for each additional 15,000 population a city shall have an additional Councilman, and whenever the total number of Councilmen is 15 or more one member of every five shall be elected at large. Cities are not to be redistricted later than January 1.

The Mayor of cities is given limited power. The Mayor, President of Council, Auditor and Treasurer are elected for a period of three years. The City Solicitor is appointed by the Mayor.

The departments of Public Service and Public Safety, to consist of three members, are to be appointed by the Mayor and to serve for three years. These boards are to have charge of all public institutions and charitable and reformatory institutions.

The bill as printed provides for a board of Police Commissioners, to be appointed by the Governor. This is to be changed in the revised bill, and the Police and Fire Departments are to be under the control of the Board of Public Safety, to be elected for a term of three years. The revised measure, as does the printed bill, provides for civil service in Police and Fire Departments.

Every city is made a municipal Court district, and provision is made for the election of Police Judges and Clerks.

The tax levy for municipal purposes each year is limited, cities to 10 mills, villages to 5 mills.

Council may not grant franchises to street railway or other quasi-public corporations for a term exceeding 25 years.

No grant shall be made except to the company making the city the best offer for rights, and unless at least 5 per cent of the gross earnings of such company are paid to the municipality.

At the end of each period of 10 years Council may regulate prices, rate of fare, etc., for the service provided by companies, that obtain the privileges. A per cent of the gross earnings of such are paid to the municipality.

The Nash municipal code contains 14,234 words, over twice as many as the Constitution of the United States. The Governor has repeatedly stated that the code ought not contain more than 6,000 words, the number of the constitution.

DIVISION OF CITIES AND VILLAGES.

The twenty-eight cities under the 10,000 population provision will be Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton, Springfield, Akron, Canton, Massillon, Lima, Youngstown, Findlay, Mansfield, Portsmouth, East Liverpool, Hamilton, Lorain, Sandusky, Zanesville, Ashtabula, Ironton, Marion, Piqua, Chillicothe, Marietta, Newark, Steubenville and Tiffin.

Between thirty and forty cities will have to go back to the village form of government. The list of those municipalities which have a population of over 5,000 and less than 10,000, but which cannot become cities until they reach a population of 10,000 are as follows: Alliance, Cambridge, Fremont, Middletown, Wellston, Bellaire, Myria, Lancaster, Warren, Xenia, Defiance, Fostoria, Delaware, Martin's Ferry, Salem, Bellefontaine, Bowling Green, Bucyrus, Canal Dover, Circleville, Conneaut, Coshocton, Galion, Glenville, Gallipolis, Kenton, Mt. Vernon, Nelsonville, New Philadelphia, Newburg, Niles, Norwalk, Painesville, St. Mary's, Sidney, Troy, Urbana, Van Wert, Washington C. H., Wellsville and Wooster.

Against Governor.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 16—Attorney General Taylor decided this morning that Governor Durbin has no right to interfere in boxing contests, but that the local police of cities must control them.

Impaled on Picket.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 16—E. R. Stocum, a well known New York salesman, was impaled upon an iron picket here yesterday while trying to avoid a runaway horse and vehicle. He is at a hospital in a serious condition.

TRAIN ROBBERS

Escape from Pursuers in Putnam County—$1000 Reward for Desperadoes, Dead or Alive.

Miller City, Ohio, Aug. 16—McClellan and Jackson, the two desperadoes who are accused of train robbery, again eluded the blood hounds and the posse, and escaped from Holtz thicket where they have been surrounded for the past two days. One of the two is thought to be wounded.

Circumstances attending their escape lead to the suspicion that they have been receiving assistance from friends.

The two robbers are supposed to be the same men who shot Sheriff Barnhill of Henry County, some days ago in escaping from a posse which was attempting to capture them for robbing hen roosts and box cars in Henry County. Word reaches here today that the citizens of Putnam county have divided into six posses of from 12 to 40 men each and are searching the woods in this vicinity.

While it is believed that they have escaped from Holtz's swamp, it is thought that they cannot get away from the men in search of them. The robbers are known to be desperate characters and no mercy will be shown them if they are seen, but they will be shot down in their tracks. Zest has been given to the pursuit by the offer of $1,000 by the commissioners of Henry county for the bodies of the robbers dead or alive.

ALEX. DEAL

MARTINSBURG MAN WHO ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Will be Taken to Columbus State Hospital—His Mind is Badly Affected.

Martinsburg, Aug. 16—Alexander Deal, whose attempt to end his life by cutting his throat with a razor several days ago, was related in the Advocate, is no better, either in mind or body, at this writing. His mind is badly affected and he complains that some mysterious power has taken hold of him, and that he is unable to shake it off. He will be taken to Columbus for treatment, and the necessary steps have been taken in the Knox county Probate court. Deal is able to sit up, but requires constant watching.

DEATH

Of Daisy M. Welsh at Her Home in West Newark at 4 O' clock Saturday Morning.

Miss Daisy Marie Welsh, only daughter of Silas F. and Mary Welsh, died from consumption at her home No. 30 Maholm street this morning at 4 o'clock. The deceased was born in Newark and at the time of her death was eighteen years, six months and seventeen days old. She spent the early years of her girlhood in Erie, Pa., returning to Newark with her parents last March. At the age of fourteen she was confirmed on Easter Day in the English Memorial Lutheran church of Erie by the Rev. I. O. Baker, and was received into the St. Paul's Lutheran church at the past Easter communion by Pastor Schindel. Miss Welsh enjoyed the confidence and companionship of a large circle of friends and possessed a most amiable disposition and sweet Christian character. She will be buried from her late residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. C. Schindel officiating. Pallbearers will serve from the Senior Luther League of which she was a member. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Woman Sneezing to Death.

Emlenton, Pa., Aug. 16—Mrs. Sarah Markey, of near Porterfield, is slowly dying, the result of constant sneezing. She sneezed 500 times in an hour, actual count. Previous to this she had made records all the way from 50 to 200. Her case is puzzling the physicians, who say she will die.

MORGAN

WHAT THE BIG MAGNATE WILL HAVE TO DO.

On Returning He Has Strike to Settle and Various Trusts Need His Attention.

New York, Aug. 16—The "Evening Journal" says that among the many things that J. P. Morgan will have to settle upon his arrival here, there will first be the coal strike. Miners are rejoicing at the approach of Morgan. They do not imagine he will help them from any feeling of human sympathy, but they have made his railroad loss so much they believe his business sense will compel him to open the mines. Operators also expect Morgan to end it. He will confer with the operators the first thing on his arrival.

Peter Power will receive Morgan's next consideration. The mysterious litigant against the railroad trust and his more mysterious backers have foiled the most astute lawyers of America. Morgan is expected to discover them.

Southern legislatures are already in arms against the Southern railroad trust that John W. Gates has been so industriously organizing all summer, under instructions from Morgan. Morgan is expected to put the finishing touches on that deal shortly after his arrival.

Litigation against the steel trust will also receive his attention. Of course, he has been in constant communication with his New York office concerning all pending deals, but his actual presence will do much to clarify the atmosphere.

John W. Gates now stands ready to deliver the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company to the trust, so he says, and Morgan may be expected to say yes or no right quickly. There is an electric trust to be patched up, and the Westinghouse and New York Air Brake and General Electric companies will be closer together after Morgan gets here, it is said.

Canada awaits him, for the Canadian Pacific railroad is reserving its vast surplus of profits until he shall say what he proposes to do about a division of the traffic of the Northwest and the subsidized ocean liners from Canada to England. This question also involves the ship trust.

TWO THIRDS VOTE

CLAIMED TO BE NECESSARY TO PASS MUNICIPAL CODE.

Section 15, Article 4, of the Constitution Requires it to Establish New Courts.

Columbus, Aug. 16—Some of the friends of Governor Nash's code are claiming that the provision of section 15, article 4, of the state constitution, which provides that two-thirds of both houses of the legislature must concur in an act establishing new courts applies only to state courts, and that the municipal courts proposed in the code are not within the contemplation of the provision. Most of the lawyers studying the matter, however, are inclined to think that Mr. McMahon is right in his contention that it will take two-thirds vote to pass any code which contains a provision for courts of any kind. In order to enable the state administration to put through such a general code as is desired by it, separating the sections providing for city courts from the rest of the code and making a separate bill of them, will probably be adopted.

Exchanged Grips.

Judge Waldo Taylor, who left this week with a party for a lake trip, had the misfortune to exchange grips with some passenger between Newark and Sandusky and the Judge got all the worst of it. His clean lined and other traveling necessities, including a nice lunch of spring chicken, were in his grip, while the one left in its place contained nothing but a few soiled collars.

NO ATTEMPT

Made to Resume Operations at the Warnke Washery Where the Rioting Took Place.

Durfee, Pa., Aug. 16—No attempt was made this morning to resume operations at the Warnke Washery and the conservation of opinion tends to the belief that there will be no resumption until the middle of next week. Fred Warnke's assertion that he intends to start the washery again despite the failure of Thursday's attempt, gives rise to the belief here that Durfee is to be the focus point in the endeavor of operators to begin operations. It is said that the operators knowing the violent disposition of the Lithuanians and Slavs here hope to bring on sufficient trouble to render the calling out of troops here necessary under the protection of the national guards the operators would then be able to open all the large collieries in the neighborhood without fear of molestation.

They intend that the citizens of Chicago shall be given an opportunity to show their sympathy for the striking miners by bombarding the paraders with a volley of coin and have made preparations accordingly, hence the carpenters division of the parade promises to be the one that will attract the most attention. In it are to be ten wagons into which spectators are expected to cast their spare change. These wagons are to be in charge of a committee of prominent business men of the city which will be selected by the carpenters unions. ## NAVAL REVIEW

At Southampton in Honor of King Edward's Coronation.

King and Queen Witness the Great Demonstration From the Royal Yacht.

The Boer Generals Attend the Review and are Received With Cheers by Thousands of People and Marked Distinction From British Generals and Statesmen.

London, Aug. 16—The King of England aboard the yacht Victoria and Albert, reviewed England's fleet of warships assembled at Portsmouth this afternoon. Up one line of vessels and down another four times, passed his majesty's yacht while in its wake followed the Irene, the Osborne, the Alberta, the Enchantress, the Fire Chief and the Commander in Chief, bearing the members of parliament, government officers, representatives of Europe's reigning families, members of the London embassies and other favored guests.

The weather for the review was of the finest. The morning dawned clear with a cloudless sky and with not a vestige of haze to interrupt the view from the shore where the thousands not favored with water accommodations stood.

London, Aug. 16—Today's review was not as impressive nor as indicative of Britain's real naval strength as would have been the one postponed seven weeks ago. There were fifteen less ships in line and the absentees included all England's examples of present day naval architecture. The most modern of the battleships was launched five years ago and an American boat of the Kentucky type would have been a match for any two of them. Of all the 109 vessels only one, the Armored cruiser Sutlej, was really representative of England's new navy. With her nine inch guns and eleven inch armour and complement of 700 men.

The ships taking part in the review were anchored in line after line parallel to the Portsmouth shore. The rows of ships stood up one behind the other like seats in an amphitheatre. Twenty-four small, low-lying torpedo boat destroyers were extended out next to the shore with seven torpedo boats and a number of training ships at the end of the line. Then behind them rose twelve gunboats some what higher out of the water, then came a line of twenty-four majestic cruisers and towering above them twenty-one battleships. Beyond these monsters lay representatives of England's merchant marine and the warships of foreign nations.

Received With Marked Distinction at The Naval Review. The steamer Saxon, from the Cape, with the Boer generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey aboard, arrived in Southampton harbor at 9:45 this morning. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener, as well as other distinguished Englishmen, were waiting in Southampton water, aboard the steamer Nigeria, for the Boer generals to express a desire to be presented to the king.

They were received with great ovation. The crowds on shore, as well as those aboard the Nigeria, cheered to the echo, while added to this was the music of the bands, making the scene a stirring one. The Colonial Secretary and the British generals received their defeated foes with every evidence of cordiality. They clasped their hands and shook them long and heartily, after which the party retired apart from the crowd and had a private conversation. After a short while the Boers were conducted to the upper deck, where they were introduced to Mrs. Chamberlain and Mrs. Roberts. It was evidently a happy party, for the laughter was incessant.

An invitation was extended to the Boer leaders by the king that they visit the royal yacht as the king's guests. The Boers seemed at first inclined to agree, but said they wished to consult with Boer Agent Fischer before making up their minds. After an animated talk, Fischer and Botha in behalf of the Triumvirate declined the king's invitation. Later the Boers held another conversation and called Fischer to them. They then issued another statement, saying they had now decided to go to Cowes tomorrow and have an audience with the king. The Boers then entrained for London.

London, Aug. 16—The Boer leaders, Dewet, Botha and Delarey reached Waterloo station at 2:40 this afternoon and were driven to the Horrex hotel. The route from the station to the hotel was lined with crowds who cheered the Boers as they passed.

INJUNCTION EXTENDED Against Cleveland Street Railroad Franchise—Three Cent Fair Road Tied Up. Columbus, Aug. 15—The supreme court today continued the injunction against the Cleveland city council until the final hearing of the ouster case brought by former Judge W. W. Boynton. This prevents the Cleveland council from granting any franchise until the court finally passes on the case. This will not be until after the special session of the legislature legislates the council out of office by means of the new code. This means that the three-cent fare road is tied up, as far as the present council is concerned. If the supreme court sees fit, it can hold the case until next spring. The cause was heard on a motion to

THE SPECIAL SESSION.

The necessity for an extraordinary session of the legislature has put the Ohio Republican bosses in a hole. They are accustomed to having enormous campaign funds and compensating corporate interests for their contributions with protection against unfavorable legislation. When the regular session adjourned the corporations heaved a sigh of relief and felt safe for two years more. They were well satisfied with the treatment they received at the hands of the Republican legislature and were ready to dig deep down into their pockets to carry the state for their protectors this fall.

Then came that supreme court decision like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky, and Gov. Nash had to call a special session. That the governor has a right to do, and he has the right also to make recommendations to the legislature. But that is as far as his power goes. Once the legislature convenes it can do as it pleases and take up any legislation it sees fit. To avert the agitation of legislation further regulating corporations and trusts an attempt has been made by the Hanna-Dick-Nash machine to secure pledges from the Republican members that they will not permit the enactment of any legislation save that recommended in the governor's message. How many of the members have tied themselves up to that program we have no means of knowing, but one thing is certain, and that is that quite a respectable minority of the Republican majority have refused to be bound hand and foot and permit the Governor to be the whole thing. And that means trouble for Gov. Nash.

The Democratic members, of course, are not pledged to anybody; and they may have matters to present which are of as much importance to the people as a new municipal code. Certainly they will put up a good fight for his home rule, and they are Republicans who will be with them if the wishes of their Republican constituents are heeded. In making a new municipal code it is important that the right of the people to make the corporations pay their just share of taxes be protected, and Democrats should insist on this kind of protection. Republicans as well as Democrats, aside from the bosses who are willing to sell the people out for campaign contributions are in favor of equal rights for all and special privileges to none in the matter of taxation. And some Republican members will not easily be led into betraying their constituents in the interests of party bosses and the corporations. Those who obey Hanna, Nash and Dick and disobey their constituents will have to face a day of reckoning.

SANDUSKY

Making Great Preparations for the Democratic State Convention.

A Splendid Auditorium at Cedar Point Erected Especially for the Gathering--All Parties Join to Entertain the Convention.

Sandusky, O., Aug. 16.—Preparations for the Democratic State convention in this city the first week in September are now very well advanced. The local committees have worked hard since the day Sandusky carried off the prize at Columbus, and there still remains much to be done; but the progress already achieved is very gratifying and positively assures the success of the convention, so far as the transaction of its business and the entertainment of delegates are concerned. A notable and very happy change from the original plans for the convention is the erection of the new auditorium especially for the occasion just beyond and adjoining the casino. The latter was found to be inadequate for convention purposes, and so the new hall, with seating capacity of 5,000, was determined upon. It is now under roof and almost ready for the interior work. It faces the lake front, with the casino in the rear and the shady groves of Cedar Point on either side. The famous bathing beach is within a stone's throw. The sides of this structure will be open when the weather permits and the delegates will enjoy the luxury of Lake Erie breezes while engaged in the sultry, not to say sulphurous, work of nominating a state ticket and adopting a platform.

Cedar Point during the two days of the convention and for two days prior thereto, will be substantially appropriated by the delegates and their friends. Everywhere delegates will "have the call" over the common herd, with the newspaper men a close second as the recipients of favors. The sleeping accommodations at the Point are limited for such an event, but those that exist are very desirable. Engagements of rooms in advance may be made now, but there is no doubt that the available space will soon be exhausted, leaving the accommodations of Sandusky for the great bulk of the convention crowd. The latter, however, promise to be adequate to meet actual necessities, but if the attendance is up to the average there will be some crowding. Some relief may be expected from the fact that many visitors, including the entire Cuyahoga delegation and a host of Clevelanders, will have quarters on board the boats in the harbor. At the best, however, Sandusky will have her hands full in caring for her guests.

Most of the committees having the preliminary arrangements in charge have nearly completed their labors. The executive committee holds frequent meetings at which reports are heard from the subordinate committees which will have to face a day of reckoning.

That's why the Republican bosses are in a hole. If Gov. Nash can control the legislature and protect the trusts and public service corporations all will be well for the machine and liberal contributions will be forthcoming. But the machine will have to make good. It will have to deliver the goods.

THE OFFICIAL CALL

For 17th District Democratic Congressional Convention at Coshocton
August 28

The Democrats of the Seventeenth Congressional district of Ohio are requested to meet in delegate convention in Coshocton, Ohio, on Thursday, August 28th, 1902, at 11 o'clock a. m., to nominate a candidate for Representative in Congress from said district.

The basis of representation to said Congressional Convention will be one delegate for every one hundred votes and one delegate for every fraction of fifty or more votes cast for James K. Bourne, Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio in 1901.

Upon the foregoing basis the representation of the several counties of the finance committee has received generous support from citizens regardless of party. There is still some money to be raised, but not a large amount, and there is no doubt that the total fund will be sufficient for all emergencies. The most gratifying thing in connection with the labors of the finance committee is the fact that party lines have been obliterated in a general show of hospitality and Republicans have been as enthusiastic as Democrats in promoting the good work.

The matter of decorations by day and night is now up for consideration and is practically provided for. The business section of the city will be rectly decorated. It is proposed to erect electric arches on Columbus avenue, adorned with flags and banners, the whole making a memorable display under the glare of the electric lights. Sentiment is growing in favor of making these arches permanent. All the business houses will be gay with flags and bunting and many private residences will be decorated.

The courtesies extended delegates and representatives of the press will be very general. They will have free transportation on the Cedar Point boats and on the city car lines. The press headquarters will be in the Hubbard block, opposite the West House—a location central with reference to all business points, including depots and wharves. The rooms of the board of elections and adjoining rooms will be turned over to the newspaper men and every facility provided for work. There will be refreshments and a buffet. The press committee has decided that no persons other than newspaper men shall be admitted to press headquarters. Some outside entertainments will be provided for the scribes. They will be presented with souvenirs which from present indications will for a long time recall to each one of them as pleasant an occasion as often falls to the lot of a working newspaper man.

The average guest of Sandusky during convention week—the citizen who comes to watch the tide of politics and perhaps to change its flow, or merely to "look on"—will find himself amidst surroundings carefully planned for his pleasure. If he is experienced in such affairs he will find this convention a decided novelty and the chances are that it will prove an agreeable one. He is guaranteed that he will not be robbed, and as for his amusement he will have to answer for himself, for the opportunities in that direction will be every hand.

said Congressional Convention will be as follows:

Coshocton ..... 34
Holmes ..... 21
Licking ..... 58
Tuscarawas ..... 52
Wayne ..... 40

The convention will be called to order at 11 o'clock a. m., for temporary organization and for the transaction of such preliminary business as may be proper before such temporary organization.

By order of the Democratic Congressional Committee.

Acting Chairman.

A SACRED TRUST

[Original]
"A man who will not respect a brother officer in his domestic relations," said Lieutenant Pickering of the United States artillery, "deserves to be cut."

"Pickering, when you are thrown exclusively into the society of your friend's wife, look out for your honor." A bugle call sounded, and Lieutenants Pickering and Frogmore arose and started for the parade ground.

A year later, the two men having meanwhile served at different forts, Frogmore came out of a railroad car that was just about to leave when he met Pickering, getting in.

"Hello, Pickering."
"Hello, Frogmore."
"Going east?"
"Yes."

"Any objection to taking care of a lady?"

"Not the least. A relation of yours?"
"Yes. Get in, put down your traps, and I'll introduce you."

Pickering stowed away his belongings, then was introduced.
"Nancy, this is one of my best friends, Mr. Pickering of the artillery corps. Pick, old boy, this is my wife. I'm going to intrust her to your charge. Don't let her get away with you."

Pickering looked astonished, while the lady greeted him with a pair of merry eyes and a smile flanked by dimples.

"Why, Frogmore, I didn't know you were married."

"Secret. Old man ready to shoot me on sight. You're the only living being who knows it. Seriously, old fellow, I know you'll be good to her. Take care of yourself. Goodbye, Nan." And, kissing the lady affectionately, he hurried from the car.

What passed between Pickering and Nancy Frogmore was a secret which Pickering at least kept secret. He certainly did not run away with his brother officer's wife. Nevertheless not long after this journey he was horrified to receive an order to report at Fort —, his horror coming from the fact that Frogmore was on duty at the same fort. Pickering used every influence to secure a change of the order, but failed. He was obliged to go to Fort — and meet his old friend Frogmore, and what was as embarrassing, Frogmore's wife. He was carrying a grudge across the parade when whom should he meet but Frogmore himself.

"Old man," said the latter, grasping his hand warmly, "I'm glad to see you. Of course you're hungry. Don't go to the mess for dinner. Come to my quarters. Nan is there. She'll be delighted to see you."
"But I'm black with engine dust," said Pickering, with a scared look.
"Never mind that. I'll give you a place to fix up in. Come along. We dine in ten minutes."

The two went to Frogmore's quarters, where, after Pickering had removed the outer coating of dust, they went down to the dining room. Nancy Frogmore advanced cordially, offering Pickering her hand, which the latter took and, after shaking it nervously, dropped all of a sudden. Nancy blushed a little, but Pickering was surprised, after all that had occurred, that she showed no well defined qualms of conscience. The three sat down to dinner, and the Frogmores were so hospitable, so jolly, that Pickering would have forgotten his intentional though not consummated injury to the head of the house had not Frogmore's friendliness and trustfulness overpowered him with shame. However, he was getting on pretty well when suddenly Frogmore blurted:

"I say, Pick, have you kept your conscience clear with brother officers' wives?"

Pickering looked as though he had received a bullet in the heart.
"Now, Bob," began the lady.
"Don't Bob me. I propose to have the thing out right here. Pick, confiding in your honor, I left Nancy in your charge for a journey. Before it was concluded you consented to run away with her."

"Bob, you promised me!"

"Now, I want you to understand that a breach of honor like this would draw down on you a cut from the whole army. Either you give me satisfaction or I let the secret out to this garrison."

"Don't mind what he says, Mr. Pickering," said Nancy Frogmore, blushing like the red stripes of the colors that could be seen from the window.

"It was—confound it, it was all a joke!" cried Pickering in desperation.
"Joke? Do you call it a joke to make an arrangement with a brother officer's wife to run away with her?"

"I did it all myself!" cried the lady.
"Not at all," said Pickering. "It was my fault."

"Never mind whose fault it was," cried Frogmore. "Are you ready to give me satisfaction?"

"Yes, I am," said Pickering, goaded to desperation.

"All right, Parker, bring that thing in."

"Not here?" cried Pickering, agast.

"Yes, here."

The servant hurried out and returned with a quart of champagne on ice. Pickering was by this time under the influence of so many conflicting emotions that he was only conscious of a trouble in which pistols were prominent when he was startled by a terrific pop, like a pistol, and a surging effervescent sound which he likened to flowing blood. Looking down beside him, his glass was frothing with wine.

"Forgive me, Pick," said Frogmore, raising his glass. "Nancy is not my wife. She's my sister. I put up a job on you, and Nan played her part admirably. Here's to you both."

"Then I'll run away with her after all," said Pickering.

"At any rate, he married her."

OBEYING THE RULES.

That Was How Mayor Johnson Got His Start in the World.

The mayor of Cleveland, familiarly known as Tom Johnson, when at the age of fourteen lived in Louisville, Ky., and secured employment as an office boy at $2 a week in a foundry. His duties consisted of keeping the office clean, running errands and picking up odd scraps.

B. Du Pont, who was part owner of the foundry, saw the industrious office boy rush one day into the street, pick up a bit of iron and, returning, throw it on the scrap heap inside. When the boy re-entered the office, Mr. Du Pont, said to him:

"Why did you do that, my son?"

"Why, sir," said Tom, a bit embarrassed, "there was no use wasting it. They can put it in the furnace and use it over again."

"Well, I just think I can use you, young man, in the street car business. How would you like to come at $7 a week?"

Young Johnson accepted the $5 raise with alacrity. Mr. Du Pont controlled the Fourth avenue and Walnut street lines. One barn was at Eighteenth and Walnut streets and at Fourth avenue and Main street was the drawing station. All the cars of the system had to pass there, and it was there that the money was drawn from the big clumsy boxes into which the fares were dropped.

One of the rules of the company was that as each bag of money was drawn the drawer must carry it into the office, put it into the safe and close the door.

Mr. Du Pont was seldom at the drawing station during the day, and in time the drawers grew careless. No one had access to the room but the drawers, and knowing one another to be honest they formed the habit of carelessly throwing the bags of money on the floor and piling them all into the safe in a heap at the end of the day or when they thought Mr. Du Pont might be around.

One day the chief drawer was ill, and young Johnson, the office boy, was sent by Mr. Du Pont from Eighteenth and Walnut streets to Fourth and Main to help out. Johnson read the rules, and in drawing the bag of money from the first car he bounded up the steps to the room, opened the safe, threw in the money and slammed the door.

"What did you do that for?" demanded the bookkeeper.

"The rules say so," answered the subdrawer over his shoulder as he ran down the steps to meet another car.

The same thing was repeated a dozen times. Then the bookkeeper wheeled around and demanded:

"Don't you think I'm honest? Do you think I want to steal any of that money?"

"Dunno," answered Johnson, "but the rule says. Put the bag in the safe and shut the door, and that's what I'm going to do whether you like it or not."

The bookkeeper jumped off his stool just as Mr. Du Pont stepped in.

"What's all this row about?" he asked.

"This young fool is acting as if he thought I was trying to steal your money," the bookkeeper replied.

"I was just obeying the rule, Mr. Du Pont," spoke up young Johnson. "Here it is." And he showed the president of the company the rule.

"All right, my boy," said Mr. Du Pont. "Since you obey the rules so well I'll make you chief drawer right now."

Two years later, when he was seventeen, Johnson was superintendent of the road.

More For the Money.

A gentleman, accompanied by his son, has just selected a picture representing a group of four peaches and a cut melon.

"How much?" he inquires.

"Fifty pounds."

Here the youngster whispers to his parent: "Oh, father, don't buy it. I saw a much finer one at another shop for $40."

"Yes; but how do you know it was better?"

"Why, there were at least twelve peaches, and the melon wasn't cut."

Often Mistaken.

In a public park at Calcutta are several birds of the adjutant species. They are the storks of the East Indies and average about six feet in height. These birds parade in a stately way and at a distance look so much like soldiers that strangers often mistake them for grenadiers.

A TWILIGHT GAME.

You Mention a Thing and Count Ten For the Next Player.

It had been raining all day. It was almost dark, and the children were getting dangerously tired of each other when Miss Lambert came up into the nursery. She lighted the fire on the hearth and drew up an easy chair; then she settled back in it and looked over at Alice and smiled.

"What is it?" questioned Alice, feeling very happy all at once.

"The world is so full of a number of things. I think we should all be as happy as kings," quoted Miss Lambert.

"Tell us the rest," exclaimed Alice eagerly.

"That's all," replied Miss Lambert, still smiling.

But the children, sure that something nice was coming, settled themselves, each on an arm of Miss Lambert's chair, and waited.

"Well, we'll play a game," said Miss Lambert. "I'll mention one of the 'things' and then commence to count ten. Before I have finished Alice must mention one, and so we'll go round and round. The one who fails to think of a thing (a beautiful thing, of course) must pay a forfeit. She must learn Mr. Stevenson's 'Nest Eggs' and recite it Sunday morning at breakfast. Now I'll begin: A road winding through the woods: one, two, three, four!"

"Red lilies growing along the road," shouted Alice; "one, two, three, four, five, six!"

"Candy! Pink and white twisted sticks," said Elizabeth solemnly.

"Count, dear," reminded Miss Lambert, for Elizabeth had forgotten present duties.

"One, two, three!"

"An old farmhouse with children inside and an apple orchard near; one, two!"

"A nice big fire," cried Alice, stretching her feet out toward the blaze.

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven!"

"Kittens," said Elizabeth, gazing lovingly at a stuffed cat lying upside down on the hearth.

"Aren't you going to count?" asked Miss Lambert.

"One, two, three," commenced Elizabeth.

"A field of grass with the wind sweeping over it; one, two, three, four!"

"A stone wall," shouted Alice, "with all the things growing side of it—wild roses, hardback, grapevines; one, two, three, four, five!"

"Babies," said Elizabeth, beginning at once to think up for next time and forgetting to count, as usual.

"Mamma's that sing softly to the babies," said Miss Lambert, following Elizabeth's lead.

"Uncles that tell stories," shouted Alice, springing into the arms of a big man who suddenly appeared in the doorway.

"Oh, Uncle Jack, you play, too!" cried both the children at once, and then such fun as followed!

Uncle Jack had to pay a forfeit because he couldn't think quickly enough, and then after that he thought of lots of jolly things—guilts' eggs and full rigged ships and big waves that dash over boats and the American flag and everything—Outlook.

PRINCESS VIROQUA, M.D.

Practising Physician and Lecturer,
Sister of Oronyatekhar, Head of the Order of Forrester of the World,

Endorses Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound After Following Its Record For Years.

From time to time we have been publishing in the newspapers of this country our statements and claims of the superiority of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for all the ills peculiar to women, but it seldom happens that the proprietor of a valuable medicine is able to produce such unquestionable expert testimony as we are permitted to publish in this article.

It is unnecessary for us to devote much space by way of introduction of Dr. Viroqua, as both she and her family are of international fame. Her brother Oronyatekhar, was second in rank of the Good Templars of the world when John B. Finch was chief. Now at the head of the Independent Order of Forrester of the world, having headquarters at Toronto, Can. Princess Viroqua, the subject of our portrait, has been a practising physician and lecturer in the United States for the past twenty-five years; her standing in her profession and eloquence as a speaker is well known, especially throughout the West. She writes a letter to Mrs. Pinkham of interest to all women.

PRINCESS VIROQUA, M. D.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Health is the greatest boon bestowed on humanity and therefore anything that can restore lost health is a blessing. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a blessing to State and Nation. It cures her mothers and daughters and makes them well and strong.

"For fifteen years I have noted the effect of your Vegetable Compound in curing special diseases of women.

"I know of nothing superior for ovarian trouble, barrenness, and it has prevented hundreds of dangerous operations where physicians claimed it was the only chance to get well. Ulceration and inflammation of the womb has been cured in two or three weeks through its use, and as I find it purely an herbal remedy, I unhesitatingly give it my highest endorsement.—Fraternally yours, Dr. P. Viroqua, Lansing, Mich."

After a thorough consideration of such a testimonial as this we are perfectly sure that the women of America will consider that we are amply justified in making our strong claims for the superiority of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Every one, of course, knows that Dr. Viroqua would not allow such a statement to be made over her signature unless it was absolutely true, and that her faith in the remedy must be great or she would not allow her portrait to be published in connection with her recommendation.

If you are ill do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for special advice; it is entirely free.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letter is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

An Innovation in Irrigation.

A practice which is gaining ground in the hottest parts of the irrigated region is that of growing alfalfa as a cover crop for the purpose of shading the soil and thus reducing soil temperature and perhaps of avoiding the ill effects of the reflection of burning sun heat from a smooth surface of light colored soil or the ill effect of "burning out of humus" by clean summer culture. In such case more irrigation is needed to supply enough water for the growth of both trees and cover crop.

Hard on the Celery.

August is counted one of the hardest months on the celery, and during this month the plants are apt to become stunted and dwarfed in their growth. To prevent this the Maryland station recommends mulching with well rotted stable manure or straw manure or clean straw early in the season, or, if water can be had conveniently, the plantation should be watered frequently and kept well cultivated after each application of water.

That it is deemed necessary by said City and this Council hereby declares that it is necessary to improve North Fourth street in said city from Charles street south to Log Pond Run; thence east in an alley along said Log Pond Run to Elm street, by excavating, grading, and constructing a sewer, with necessary catch-basins, house connections, manholes, etc., in said street and alley, between said points in accordance with the plans, profiles, estimates and specifications relating to said improvement now on file at the office of the City Clerk.

That the cost and expense of said improvement, less the cost and expense of improving street, alley or highway intersections, and less one-fifth of the entire cost and expense thereof, shall be assessed upon the lots and lands abutting thereon in the manner Council may specify in the ordinance for said improvement; and assessments shall be payable in ten semi-annual installments, and bonds shall be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof.

That the City Clerk is hereby directed to cause this resolution to be published for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the corporation. All persons claiming damages from the foregoing improvement must file their claims therefor in the office of the City Clerk within four weeks from the first publication of this resolution.

F. T. MAURATH, City Clerk.

THE ARIZONA KICKER

ITEMS OF NEWS FROM A VERY BREEZY EXCHANGE.

Some Personal Remarks That Are Quite to the Point by a Man Who Is Always Ready to Back Up All That He Says.

(Copyright, 1902, by C. B. Lewis.)

WE are told that no eastern editor accepts a railroad pass for fear of being biased in favor of the corporation. We can't understand it. We have three annual passes, and we like nothing better than to hold a railroad president up by the neck and give him a shake. Perhaps it is the difference in the climate.

None of the extinct volcanoes of Arizona seems inclined to resume business, but we still have cloudbursts and cyclones to keep us up to the mark.

Major Halsey of Lone Jack and Colonel Henderson of Grass Valley exchanged shots the other day in the latter town, and the only damage was the wounding of a dog. We advised the both of 'em long ago to do their shooting with clubs.

As we were returning from Wolf Creek the other day a number of Colonel Taylor's cowboys struck our trail and pursued us for three miles, but our cayuse held his lead and pulled us safely through. This is about their fourth attempt to catch us, and they ought to become discouraged pretty soon.

Bill Whalen, who used to hang out a good deal in this locality, was buried the other day in New Mexico. It is needless to add that he was hung by a vigilance committee and pronounced dead before the burial. Bill was a man who always ran a good thing into the ground.

We always endeavor to sail close to the ethics of the profession, but it does seem to be our duty just now to remark that the editor of the Blue Hill Banner is a liar, a thief and a coward. Should he differ from this conclusion a telephone message will always find us with the trumpet at our ear.

It has been suggested to us over and over again that if we desired to lead a filibustering expedition into Mexico men and money would be furnished. We don't desire. We have got all the business on hand we can attend to, and Uncle Sam seems to have more territory now than he knows what to do with.

The assertion at the head of our editorial columns that the Arizona Kicker has the largest circulation of anything on the face of this earth may be doubted, but as a matter of precaution the man who doubts it had better bring two guns along and get the drop on us before he begins to talk.

Most of the coroners in this territory instruct their juries to bring in a verdict of "struck dead by lightning" when a bikist is found dead along the highway. This would seem to make out that we have an unusual number of thunderstorms, but it clears up all mysteries with promptness and dispatch and saves expense to the counties.

The Red Mountain Eagle calls upon 500 single women of the east to come out here and marry 500 single men of Red Mountain and encourage them in their work of rebuilding a state. We have seen about 500 of the men of the Red Mountain district, and our advice to the single women of the east is to stay right at home and die of old age.

That we may not hereafter be interrupted in our editorial or postoffice work we shall set Saturday afternoon as a sort of holiday for people who want to shoot at us to drop in and pop away. Last week no less than eight cutlery broke in upon us at odd times, and though no damage was done, our work suffered from the interruptions. Saturday afternoon is the time, and come as soon after 1 o'clock as you can.

The friends of John Haynes fear that he has met with an accident of some sort. He started to ride over to Cochise last week, and two days later his boots and a few bones were found on the trail. It is the general belief that a mountain lion got him, and our loss is his gain.

Our esteemed contemporary came out last week with a challenge to us to meet him in mortal combat, but we shall not take advantage of the occasion. On the contrary, if he feels like shooting at us we will face a brick wall and let him pop away at us for

DISGUISED CATARRH.

A Stealthy, Insidious, Weakening Enemy to Women.

REV. HARRIET R. EDWARDS, CLINTON, IA.

Rev. Harriet R. Edwards in a recent letter from Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Ia., writes:

"I have found that Peruna is a wonderful medicine to use in diseases peculiar to women. It quickly and permanently restores health and vigor and acts as a natural tonic to a worn-out system. I have so far never observed a case which was not greatly aided by its use."—REV. DR. H. R. EDWARDS.

THERE are a multitude of women, especially housewives, and all other women obliged to be on their feet constantly, who are wretched beyond description, simply because their strength and vitality is sapped away by catarrhal discharges from the pelvic organs. These women get up in the morning tired, drag themselves through their daily duties tired, only to go to bed at night as tired as before.

Peruna is such a perfect specific for each case that when patients have once used it they can never be induced to quit it until they are permanently cured. It begins to relieve the disagreeable symptoms at once. The backache ceases, the trembling knees are strengthened, the appetite restored, the digestion made perfect, the dull headache is stopped and the weakening drains are gradually cured. These results certainly follow a course of treatment with Peruna.

Jos. B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from Robinson, Ill.:

"Mrs. Crowley has taken a number of bottles of Peruna on account of nervous troubles. It has proven a strong tonic and lasting cure. I can cheerfully recommend it."—JOS. B. CROWLEY.

an hour or two at ten paces. He may hit the wall once or twice, but we know he won't hit us.

A traveling fakir who came into this neighborhood four weeks ago and sold his liver pads for a dollar apiece and sang the hymn of the "Sweet By and By" with tears in his eyes has been found dead near Rocky Ford. He either sang too sweetly or his pads were a fraud.

It is now three weeks or more since any one pulled a gun and tried to shoot the hands off the postoffice clock, and we are living in hopes that the reform will last several months to come. We are prepared for a surprise party, however, and shall shoot as straight in return as we know how.

In a communication to this paper two weeks ago Judge Gildersleeve spelled "happy" with only one "n," and we took the liberty of adding another. He now announces that he won't be "happy" until he has had a shot at us, and we suppose we shall have to give him an opportunity. It is rather a bore, though, and there are times when we are inclined to let a half-breed Indian run away with our dictionary and let it down for soup.

It has now been definitely ascertained that the man who was lynched at Blue Grass Valley last March was a William Scott of Iowa, who had come out here to seek his fortune and gambled a horse as a beginning. It is well enough that William should have been identified, but we can't see how it is going to help his case any.

The story in a Chicago paper that we won $8,000 on a hand of poker is the veriest nonsense. In the first place, the average jackpot around here is $1.00 above $2, and in the next we never met a man in this territory who wouldn't lie down if the sum got much above $3. The story arises from the fact that with Limb Jack in our own hand we bluffed Judge Harkins, who had an ace full, out of a two dollar and a half pot. The town is full of poker, but even the best players have to save the blue out of their suspenders in making enough to buy a plug of tobacco.

A New Hat Trick.

A separate hat trunk is considered a necessity if three or more dabby hats are required. These hat trunks, in their latest form are about the size of a big hat box in which the maker sends a hat home, says the New York Evening Journal. The floor, lid and each of the four sides are fitted with a detachable frame, to which the hat is adjusted by a hatpin in the same manner as when put on the head. These frames may be removed from the trunk and the empty trunk used as an ordinary packing trunk for a visit for a few days.

Mrs. Wm. Hetrick, Kennard, Washington county, Neb., writes:

"I am fifty-six years old and have not felt well since the Change of Life began ten years ago. I was in misery somewhere most of the time. My back was very weak, and my flesh so tender it hurt me to lean against the back of a chair. I had pain under my shoulder-blades, in the small of my back and hips. I sometimes wished myself out of this world. Had hot and cold spells, dizziness, and trembling of the limbs, and was losing flesh all the time.

"After following your directions and taking Peruna I now feel like a different person."—Mrs. Wm. Hetrick.

Barbara Alberty, corner Seventh and Walnut streets, Appleton, Wis., writes as follows in regard to Peruna:

"For years I have suffered with backache and severe pains in the side. I doctored so much that I became discouraged.

"A school friend told me how very much Peruna had benefited her and I sent out for a bottle, which did more to relieve me than all the other medicine I had ever taken.

"I used it faithfully for two weeks and it completely cured me. I have not had any pains since, anywhere, but feel like a new woman. I am truly thankful for what Peruna has done for me."—Barbara Alberty.

Mrs. D. W. Mason, 502 Dauphine street, New Orleans, La., writes:

"I have been taking your Peruna and Manalin and can cheerfully recommend it to all those suffering with the same trouble that I was. I have been suffering for the past two years with female weakness, palpitation of the heart, stomach, kidney and liver disorder, and above all a dreadful cough with smothering spells. I was completely run down.

"After I had taken one bottle of Peruna and a few doses of your Manalin, I could sleep soundly, my heart was better, my cough left me, it acted immediately upon my nerves, and after taking four bottles according to your directions, I was entirely cured of all my troubles.

"I can truthfully say that there is nothing to equal your Peruna and Manalin. I was a different woman after taking the second bottle. It is without a doubt the best medicine in the world. Language fails to express my gratitude for this cure. May God bless you."—Mrs. D. W. Mason.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

DIRE PLOT TO KILL.

Ex-Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania Receives a Deadly Explosive--Lucky Escape.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 16.—An attempt to kill Robert E. Pattison, former Governor of the state and present candidate for the same office upon the Democratic ticket, has been made by persons whose identity is yet concealed. A package containing several pounds of gunpowder in a concentrated and highly powerful form was sent to Mr. Pattison, but, by a chance, the powder was not ignited. The receipt of the explosive by Mr. Pattison fitted so naturally into a chain of events with which he is connected that the design of the person who forwarded the parcel to Mr. Pattison was inspected by Mr. Pattison. The powder was assumed by him that the stuff was samples of a new form of fuel that is about to be placed on the market by a company of which he is the attorney.

This company designs to treat culm, the refuse from coal mines, with chemicals and mold it into briquettes. A test was to be made of the briquettes in order to demonstrate their worth. With supreme cunning the originator of the plot obtained powder in the form in which it is used by the United States Government in large caliber guns. The powder received by Mr. Pattison was in cakes of various forms and sizes. Being unacquainted with the appa-ance of the culm product Mr. Pattison assumed that the powder was briquettes fabricated of the culm. Relying upon his judgment, he concluded to forego testing the stuff until a suitable opportunity presented itself, when the test might be made in the presence of men interested in the enterprise.

The first hint of a conspiracy against Mr. Pattison's life was given in an anonymous note which was sent to the North American office. A fac-simile of the note was printed in the North American yesterday morning.

Another note containing additional details came to this newspaper yesterday. This led to an investigation. Samples of those supposed briquettes were submitted last night to Captain Delano, Ordinance Officer of the League Island Navy Yard. Captain Delano pronounced the stuff to be powder, and intimated that it might have been obtained from the magazines at Ft. Mifflin. Several tons of the powder similar to that which was mailed to Mr. Pattison are stored at Ft. Mifflin.

Mr. Pattison was greatly surprised when the real nature of the contents of the package were communicated to him. He is of the opinion that the powder was sent to him by an insane person.

The three Pittsburg Cash Stores, of which John Nelson and Robert White, were proprietors, located at 38 West Main street corner of West Main and Sixth streets, and 187 Williams street, were closed on Friday evening at 5 o'clock by Sheriff Anderson on a writ of attachment in favor of the Sprague Grocery company for $1,118. This morning two other attachments were levied on the same property, one in favor of F. Lisey for $121, and the other in favor of Miller & Howell for $442. At 9 o'clock this morning Robert A. White made a deed of assignment to Mr. Fred Speer, and the places have been closed. The exact status of the case as to whether the sheriff holds the property of the assignee, is not known at this writing. In Friday's Advocate it was stated that the partnership existing between Mr. Nelson and Mr. White had been dissolved, and that the business would be carried on by Mr. White.

KNOW CHEN'S FEATHER.

Odd Incident of Chinese Prince's Visit to New York.

Prince Tsai Chen of China went sightseeing and visiting in New York the other afternoon. He was received by Acting Mayor Fornes in the city hall, looked over the lower city from the pinnacle of a skyscraper and drove through Chinatown in royal state.

While returning to his hotel, a short distance from it, there stood on a corner four Chinamen. Each had a bundle, presumably of soiled or cleansed clothes, and each wore a jacket of cheap plum colored cloth. On the head of each perched one of those funny felt hats that nobody but a Chinaman in the United States appears to be able to buy. As the prince went by they crossed their hands and made odd gestures. They recognized the peacock feather if not the man who wore it.

Prince Chen spoke a word to one of his interpreters. Then he turned and made to the four Chinamen on the sidewalk a profound bow and smiled the while and waved his fan. Long after the parade of carriages had passed the quartet stood as if in a trance gazing at each other. It was a bit of old China in New York.

SCHWAB RETIRES

As President of the Big Steel Trust--The Cause of His Quitting.

New York, Aug. 16.—With the homecoming of J. Pierpont Morgan next week the retirement of Charles M. Schwab, president of the U. S. Steel corporation, and the election of James Gayley, the present first vice president as his successor, will be taken into immediate consideration. Mr. Schwab's ill health is one of the reasons that have brought the management of the billion dollar trust to the view that a change should be made, but there are other reasons more potent than his physical condition which suggest that his successor be named.

Schwab was chosen as a compromise when the combine was first organized, because Carnegie would not favor Henry C. Frick. The directors of the trust are J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Henry H. Rogers, Elbert H. Gary, George W. Perkins, Edmund S. Converse and Percival Roberts, Jr. His associations up to within a year of that time had been confined largely to the workshops in Homestead, in which he had grown up and where he became one of the most skillful mechanics.

From the beginning it was patent that the president was not in sympathy with his associates. When it came to discussing mechanical details he was at home. When it came to organizing or directing commercial operations he was at sea, and so it came about that the executive and administrative work of the aggregated industries fell on other shoulders, and Schwab exerts very little influence in the direction of affairs.

them were not, and since that time they have been working out in the most unexpected places, coming out of his fingers and toes, arms and legs. His physician is of the opinion that one of the needles attacked his heart, causing death. An examination will be made.

RAILROADS CAUSE RIOT

P. & L. E. and Wabash Use Force to Gain Possession of Key to Pittsburg's Store House District.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 16.—The Pittsburg and Lake Erie, and the Wabash railroads adopted strenuous methods to get possession of the key to the southside storehouses in Pittsburg, Friday afternoon, and the fight continued all night.

With First street, Southside, as a dividing line, the fight was waged under the Panhandle bridge by the Pittsburg & Lake Erie, and on the Atterbury Glass property by the Wabash. Lake Erie engineers threw out tracks under the bridge and attempted to cross First street to the Wabash.

All night long the forces of the Wabash and Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroads were stationed between the Atterbury glass plant and South First street, and trouble was expected to break out at any time but the Lake Erie people did not try to force through the barricade erected by the Wabash forces and there was no violence. The Wabash people have their property surrounded by piles of lumber, ties, wagons and everything that will close out intruders and behind this breastwork are the Wabash employees with pick handles and other cudgels ready to crack skulls of the Lake Erie people if they try to force their way through. This is not likely to occur. The highways and sewers department of the city has ruled against the Lake Erie people crossing First street, and they are also watching them.

The Wabash people built fires in their property last night and pickets were stationed all around the place. Guards changed duty every two hours and the old Atterbury grounds looked like a regulation military camp. Lying about the ground close to the crackling fires were the Wabash forces. The force represented almost every race and color of people.

Early this morning the commissary wagon from the Wabash tunnel arrived and the men were given their breakfast. The police are keeping their eye on the scene, but from indications there will be no trouble at least not for the present.

BUCKEYE FUGITIVE

EMULATES TRACY.

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 16.—"Tell Fred Ketter that I'm fixed. I am going to be like Tracy and I'll never be taken alive. There'll be shooting if he tries to get me any more. I'm not going to be taken prisoner by him or anyone else. Tell him to come ready for a fight."

Such was the message from Francis M. Brown, which was delivered to Deputy Fred Ketter yesterday afternoon by a citizen of the west side of this county.

Brown is the man who for the past two years has been badly wanted by the authorities of Scioto and Adams Counties. For two years he has been pursued constantly by the officers of two counties, six men being engaged in an effort to capture him. So far he has given them all the slip, although he never left the confines of the counties.

Two years ago Brown was arrested for assault and battery. While the trial was in progress he became enraged at the prosecuting witness, and drawing a revolver, snapped it three times at him. Luckily for the witness, the powder had become wet while Brown was hiding in the woods from arrest and failed to go off. Brown's action cleared the court room of officers and spectators and he made his escape to the woods again. He was captured a few weeks after, but he jumped his bond and no officer has since come within hailing distance of him.

Help the Great Carnival.

Get busy, and help to make the Elks' Carnival the first week in September a grand success. It will be anyway, so you might as well help along. "If you can't boost, don't knock." There is to be no blacksmiths' contest, nor hammer throwing event for you to enter, but many ways to please and amuse yourself.

Mrs. Anna Quinn and Miss Grace Quinn, who have been visiting Mrs. Fitzgibbon, at her home on South Fourth street, for some days, left today for Lima, where they will visit relatives before returning to their home at Davenport.

Elks' Carnival in Two Weeks.

Only a little more than two weeks intervene between now and the opening of the Elks' free carnival, from September 1 to 6, and the committees are busy advertising the event all over the state. While the carnival is a very important feature of the week, the fact must not be lost sight of that the 5th annual reunion of the Elks of Ohio, is to be held at that time.

SOME HUNTERS

Making a Kick Because They Cannot Kill More Than Ten Squirrels in a Day.

Since the open season for squirrels is on, much comment has been made in local sporting circles on the peculiar features of the squirrel law. No person is allowed to kill more than 10 squirrels a day. Then it is necessary to secure a written permit from landowners before hunting can be done. Hunters who neglect this take chances on having to pay from $10 to $15 for the first offense and from $15 upwards for the second. An effort was made to have the legislature amend the law so that arrests for these trespasses could be made only on complaint of the landowner, but this was defeated, and a warden can cause an arrest even if the landowner had given verbal consent.

"CYCLE WHIRL" AT IDLEWILDE.

M'MILLAN'S GENEROSITY.
The late Senator James McMillan of Michigan was princely in his liberality, says the Detroit Tribune. In public and private charity, in support of his party and in encouragement of many deserving objects and persons he annually donated a respectable fortune. His beneficence was systematic and unceasing. He contributed annually to every charitable institution in Detroit and made a special donation of $5,000 to the poor fund during the year 1904. Whenever he encountered any striking example of the world's misery he always sought to relieve it. Into his office came one day a brakeman who had been employed on his Lake Superior railroad. The man's leg had been injured by the cars and he had been sent to a hospital. He frankly told Mr. McMillan that the road was not to blame for the accident; that it was caused by his own carelessness. Mr. McMillan defrayed his expenses and before he returned to Lake Superior gave him an artificial leg, an outfit of clothing and an order for steady employment.

A few years ago a Texas clergyman came to Detroit. He was agent for the Mary Allen seminary at Crockett, Tex., an institution for the education and industrial training of colored girls. The lady who founded the institution had succeeded in erecting the educational building and had then died, and a dormitory was needed to make the seminary a success. Mr. McMillan heard the appeal, invited the clergyman to call upon him, and when he heard a full description of the institution said: "My dear sir, you can return home. I will be happy to carry the matter to a conclusion." The result was a fine dormitory building close to the seminary for which the senator paid $16,000.

As Senator McMillan's fortune increased so did his charitable works, says the New York Times. When first chosen a senator, he was known as a systematic giver to private and public philanthropic undertakings, and no other man in Michigan, it is stated, ever gave away so much money or gave it more ungrudgingly than he. As an instance of his generosity and his regard for those who were dependent upon him for their livelihood it is related that once he advised an employee to invest $1,000 in a company he was incorporating. The employee, a woman, replied that she did not have $1,000.

"Well," said Mr. McMillan, "I'll invest it for you, and you can repay me out of the dividends." There are in Michigan—and elsewhere, for that matter—hundreds of young men whom he aided. He helped many of them to get an education. To others he gave situations in connection with the enterprises he controlled.

TARANTULA PEST IN SPAIN.

Guitar Players, Believed Able to Cure Bites, Reap Rich Harvest.
Andalusia is suffering from a plague of tarantula spiders which have overrun the fields and have in some instances attacked the peasant farmers in their homes, says a special cable dispatch from Madrid, Spain, to the Chicago News. Local relief societies have revived the old Andalusian tradition that guitar music is the best method for curing the tarantula bite.

It is said that the tarantula poison produces a racking nervous disturbance, which induces the bitten person to begin dancing when he hears the hum of the spider and to keep on dancing until profuse perspiration is induced, when he falls down exhausted, but cured.

In consequence of the revival of this belief hundreds of guitar players have flocked into Andalusia to ply their art in the homes of the victims of the spiders, encouraging the dancing and stimulating the healing process. The musicians are reaping a rich harvest.

Volley Ball.
The unmarried men won two out of three games of volley ball played Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. For the third time the score is tied, each team having 9 wins. On Monday night the question of supremacy will be decided, as the series of 21 games will then be completed.

Late Again Changed.
The date for the Terry McGovern-Young Corbett contest before the Southern Athletics Club of Louisville has been changed, from Monday, September 15, to Monday September 22, one week later. The change was made on account of the primary elections in New York City, which are to be held on the 15th inst. of next month. This would prevent many of the New York sporting men from leaving town on that day, and so the shifting of the date was thought to be the best thing to do under the circumstances.

The "Infants" basket ball team of the Y. M. C. A. held their first meeting of the season Friday evening and played several fast practice games.

Sporting Notes.
Cincinnati defeated Homestead, Pa. Friday by the close score of 3 to 2. Bob Ewing pitched and does not seem to be in form.

Wiley Piatt, Comiskey's crack left hander, is reported to have signed with the Boston National team for next season, and accepted $500 advance money.

Many Strangers Will Be Here.
Attorney Charles W. Miller, of the Elks' Carnival committee, says Saturday that from all indications more strangers would be brought to Newark by the excursions the week beginning September 1, than were ever here before in the same length of time. They will be men who will benefit Newark and should receive a fitting welcome.

THE W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. has met regularly every week all through the heated term, but owing to sickness in the family of our Press Superintendent, the report has not been sent to the papers. The forces of evil are more active in summer than winter, why should we as a Christian people, rest?

On the 12th inst., the devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Anna Green, with Mrs. Cool at the organ. The leader read the 27th Psalm, also a beautiful poem, "He Leadeth Me." All present felt spiritually helped. Promptly at 3 o'clock order was called by the President. After reading and approval of minutes, the first item of unfinished business was a report from the County Superintendent of Fair work, in regard to terms for a checkroom at the Fair ground during the coming fair. On motion, Mrs. Wharton was made Local Superintendent and the matter left in the hands of County and Local Superintendents.

An invitation from the D. A. Revolution to accompany them to Buckeye Lake the 21st inst., was accepted by a rising vote of thanks. Then followed the program of the day, viz. Fresh air mission work, as founded by Lady Henry Somerset, of England. Mrs. Stella Anderson gave some very interesting facts in regard to this work. We observed two of our red letter days at this meeting, viz. Lady Henry Somerset's birthday, also Mrs. Mary Hunt's birthday, our National Superintendent of G. T. I. work. Mrs. C. C. Metz being county and local superintendent of S. T. I., gave her plans which she hopes to carry out. Previous to this Mrs. Metz gave a very interesting talk on her visit to her New England home, and the meeting with the Union there. This bow of ribbon, white is the tie that binds, and wherever we go this wide world over, and see our badge, we can take each other by the hand and feel that we are interested in one common cause. This meeting of the Union was indeed a feast of good things.

After acceptance of minutes of Executive committee, held at the home of the President, Aug. 12, on motion, the union adjourned with benediction, led by Mrs. Metz.

N. B. Our annual meeting will be held Sept. 2d at 2:30 p. m. in the parlors of First M. E. church, at which time the reports for the year will be given, and officers elected for the ensuing year. Let every member arrange to be present on that day.

Program for August 19: Devotional, Mrs. Galoway; responsive reading, Mrs. Larimore.
